

Will Kuria

Bio

Will Kuria is a 20-something Baltimore based design student and creative. A Maryland native, he spent his adolescence living in West Virginia with his parents and two sisters, and returned to Maryland solo in 2016. Will is a transfer student from Marshall University, and he currently attends University of Baltimore under the Integrated Arts major. In the fall Will plans on transferring again to MICA to pursue a BFA in graphic design. Part-time Will is a retail sales associate at Urban Outfitters.

Design Style

Inspired by contemporary movements, I am drawn to that anticipates the future. I have an interest in new media design, as well as design of the everyday. With the breadth of technology growing, design becomes a way to interact with the future. Bright attention grabbing color, and dynamic type are forces that inspire my design style.

Daniel Calderwood, Concept Album Art and Vinyl Packaging for Feel It Break by Austra

Hobby

Not just interested in design, I have an appeal to all forms of art. I have been drawing for awhile now. Charcoal and pencil are my go to mediums and drawing has become one of his major hobbies. I paint as well and am interested in sculpture and installation art.

Helen, graphite on paper, 2016